

Tuesday - Subordinate clause task

Can you spot the subordinate clause and the main clause? Pick two different colours and colour them in.

Despite the wind and rain, Cairo the archaeologist unearthed an Egyptian necklace.

The Eagle circled in the air, waiting for the chicken to stop moving.

The Pharaoh, who was inside the pyramid, stood quietly.

Cairo slept, while the camel entered the Pyramid.

Now see if you can write your own sentences that contain main clauses and subordinate clauses.
